

Kim Lakner is a 2009 graduate of Ohio University's Scripps College of Communication. He has worked in the radio, newspaper and online media business dating back to his high school days. His experience includes 90.3 WCPN Ideastream, The Akron Beacon Journal and SportsInk.com, a high school sports-oriented website based in Fairlawn, Ohio.

Kim had the privilege of covering Browns games for 90.3 WCPN, and has worked in Media Relations with the Cleveland Gladiators Arena Football team and Akron Racers professional women's softball team. He hopes to one day start his own sports publicity firm.

In his free time, Kim enjoys running, attending Cleveland sporting events and playing golf.
